

DH-HUB Relay

Wireless Relay

Relay is a dry contact device that is used to remotely control 0–36 VDC power. The dry contact of the relay is electrically isolated from the power supply circuit of the device. Relay can be used in low-voltage to control the supply of power to other devices. The device comes with overvoltage protection and overheating protection

Features

- Overheating protection.
- Voltage detection.
- 1 channel external tamper input.
- 1x NO/NC (0–36 VDC, Max 5A)
- 800 m (2624.67 ft) in open areas
- AES128 Encryption
- Frequency Hopping Function And Two-Way Comms
- Cloud Update
- Power Supply 7–24 VDC

Additional Products that can pair into the Dahua wireless alarm can be found by scanning here

